STEP-BY-STEP INSTALLATION

1

Remove old taps and spout

1. Turn off the water at your meter and drain the system by opening the lowest hot and cold outlets in your home (usually the bath taps).
2. Remove the old buttons, handles, flanges, spindles, and jumper valves. A rubber strap wrench is ideal for loosening tight dress flanges.
3. Undo the old spout locknut underneath the basin, then twist and pull the spout free from above. Cut out the existing O-ring on the breech piece and replace it with the new O-ring supplied with your EZYFIX taps.

EZYtip: If the locknut is difficult to loosen, secure it with a spanner underneath while gently twisting the spout from above to break it free.

Install your new EZYFIX taps

1. Select the correct adaptor to match the length of your existing spindle.

EZYtip: Wind the spindle in by hand first before tightening with a spanner to avoid damaging the washer.
2. Fit the tap flange, handle, and buttons. Tighten the button using the button indicator tool for a secure finish.

Install your new EZYFIX spout

1. Select the correct-sized adaptor, slide the flange onto the spout, then apply thread tape to the shorter end of the adaptor and screw it into the spout.
2. Push the new spout into place and re-tighten the locknut underneath the basin to secure it.

EZYtip: Lubricate the O-rings on the existing breech nipple with tap lubricant or even a small amount of olive oil to make assembly easier.

Job done!

Turn on the water supply at the mains, then turn on your new taps to check everything is flowing correctly.
